2017, The Great Year of the Lord? Inconvenient warnings of an impending global disaster

Rio de Janeiro, August 8, 2016.

Dear heads of state, government leaders, business leaders and those responsible for the scientific and cultural institutions of all nations,

The aim of this document is to reveal the worrying signs that the planet Earth and human civilization are about to undergo profound changes. If we are prepared, the ensuing damage can be minimized.

1 – TROUBLING WARNINGS

The Bible, considered a sacred text by a third of the planet, warns of the appearance of a celestial body known as Wormwood, which will cause cataclysmic damage around the world (Revelations 8:10-11), especially caused by water (floods). Jesus has also warned us about a danger coming from space that will affect all of humanity: “There will be signs in the sun, moon and stars. On the earth, nations will be in anguish and perplexity at the roaring and tossing of the sea. People will faint from terror, apprehensive of what is coming on the world, for the heavenly bodies (forces that come from space) will be shaken (knocked off balance, unstable).” (Lucas 21:25-26).

In recent decades there have been countless sightings of unidentified flying objects – UFOs – and enigmatic crop circles that suggest something mysterious and out of the ordinary is happening around the world, especially in the northern hemisphere, where these events occur with greater frequency. It seems as though these phenomena are warnings that something extremely serious is going to hit our planet. I believe that American presidents since Harry Truman and the last six Catholic popes have been aware of this. There was the episode involving former president Jimmy Carter, for example, who, after being informed about reports of UFOs in the USA, was seen sitting at his desk with his head in his hands, sobbing (taken from the History Channel documentary Hangar 1). I believe he would not behave this way unless the situation was extremely serious. In my opinion, these aliens have come to our world to help us during the critical period ahead.

Since the appearance of Our Lady to two French children on the mountain of La Salette in 1846, we have been repeatedly warned that a great punishment is heading for Earth. Important later warnings occurred in Fatima (1917), Garabandal (1961/1965), Akita (1973), and other locations.

In Brazil, Our Lady has communicated with us through the seers Pedro Siqueira and Pedro Regis. The latter gave several warnings about the danger and suffering that would affect the people of a number of cities and regions around the world. I have indicated the places mentioned in his messages on this map:

2 – SIGNS OF AN IMMINENT AND UNEXPECTED EVENT

In my book The Final Countdown I revealed several new prophetic discoveries. Even though they converge in the last few years of this decade, they have so far been little commented upon. I believe I have unraveled the key that marks the beginning of the prophecy described in verses 11 and 12 of chapter 12 of the Book of Daniel. This is the year 609 BC, which Isaac Newton, despite having studied the Bible for many years, was unable to identify, even though this year is important and significant in the study of Bible prophecy. Instead, Newton used in his calculations the year 609 of the Christian era, which has no historical or prophetic relevance. If the famous physicist had instead used the year 609 BC he would have discovered that the year that will transform humanity is 2017, rather 2060. More information about this discovery can be found in chapters 14 and 15 of the book The Final Countdown.

Examining the chronology of Biblical events, I found that the seventh millennium of the Jewish prophecy, or the messianic age (Olam Haba - the world to come), will begin in 2018, after the cataclysmic events of 2017 (see Chapter 16 of The Final Countdown).

According to the well-known prophecy of Saint Malachy, Francisco, the last in a list of 112 popes, will end the era of the papacy in Catholicism. However, it will not be the end of the Catholic Church. The current Catholic leader is the bishop dressed in white of the Third Secret of Fatima, the one who walks in a half destroyed city, referred to by Malachy as Petrus Romanus (Peter the Roman), about whom he said: "Petrus Romanus, who will feed his flock through many tribulations. This accomplished, the seven-hilled city (Rome) will be destroyed, and the Dreadful Judge will judge His people. End." In addition, I found that the prophecy holds a hidden year for the end of the papacy, which is 2019 (see Chapter 17 of The Final Countdown).

3 - THIRD WORLD WAR

While nuclear weapons exist, our civilization is in danger. Our Lady of Fatima warned that Russia would be used by God to punish the world if the country was not consecrated to her Immaculate Heart in union with all the bishops of the Catholic Church. However, this particular consecration never took place in the requested form, and my suspicion is that the Russia that Our Lady so feared was not that of the Communist dictatorship, but today's Russia, led by Vladimir Putin. No one has noticed until now, but I have found a connection between the Russian President and Our Lady of Fatima. Putin's birthday is October 7, which, interestingly, is also the day of Our Lady of the Rosary. Every Catholic knows that Our Lady of the Rosary is the saint who appeared to the three children at Fatima (Portugal, 1917), whose official name is Our Lady of the Holy Rosary of Fatima.

I believe that the benefits of the consecration of Russia would affect Putin in a direct manner, somehow reducing or eliminating his obsessive desire for territorial expansion – he has previously annexed Georgia and the Crimea and now threatens to divide Ukraine. Putin is a real threat to the Baltic countries, former Soviet republics which are now NATO members. Because of his conquering and combative personality, I believe Putin be the reincarnation of Napoleon Bonaparte. The Russian president even bears a certain physical resemblance to the French Emperor. Let us pray for world peace and to God to guide Vladimir Putin decisions.

If Donald Trump is elected president of the United States, we can expect major repercussions among leaders involved in the Middle Eastern strategy game. Immediate decisions will be taken by the allies of the US in order to compel the United States to take action favorable to them before Obama completes his term. As an example, we can highlight the possibility of Turkey or Saudi Arabia invading Syria or Israel bombing Iran's nuclear facilities or taking decisions related to the construction of the Third Temple in Jerusalem, as with Trump in the White House these nations will not have the same relationship with the US as they have with the current government. However, due to the failed coup of July 15, Turkey's relations with the US and the European Union have been shaken, paving the way for the Eurasian country to reconsider its military position, with the possibility of allying itself to Russia, a very serious complicating factor.

In Asia, Taiwan, led by the nationalist Tsai Ing-wen, could declare independence, leading to the direct intervention of China in a province it considers rebellious and forcing the United States to defend the protected island. North Korea, meanwhile, could go beyond the limits of common sense and take irresponsible, or even accidental, actions, with disastrous results.

It is worth pointing out that a conflict between nations in 2016 or the beginning of next year could get out of control and lead to World War III. The First World War was triggered by much less. If this happens, it is even more certain that God will intervene with a devastating global disaster.

4 - GLOBAL DISASTER CAUSED BY AN UNEXPECTED THREAT FROM OUTER SPACE

I believe that the passing of a celestial body thousands of years ago is the most likely cause of the cooling of Siberia and the rapid freezing of the mammoths, which were recently discovered preserved and with their blood in liquid form. Preservation of this type would be possible only if the freezing was caused by a sudden and rapid drop in temperature. The only possibility of this happening would be through the passing of a star close to the Earth, which by changing the tilt of Earth's axis would cause the displacement of the geographic poles in just a few hours. The Younger Dryas impact hypothesis and the Holocene extinction hypothesis explain the major climate changes that took place around 12,000 years ago and are accepted among the scientific community. Both predict that some kind of impact from space determined the end of the Ice Age, leading to the development of the human race.

<http://www.edition.cnn.com/2013/05/30/world/asia/siberia-mammoth-blood-discovery>

The scientific community attributes the origin of the current global warming phenomenon to the action of man (anthropogenic), but other scientists – albeit a minority – disagree, with reasonable arguments. However, my hypothesis is that the numerous periodic passages of this supposed star over millions of years has created a memory effect in the planet, which manifests itself globally through the climate changes that are so common today. Therefore, the phenomenon of global warming cannot entirely be caused by man, but it is the planet (Gaia, the Earth defined as a single living organism) "sensing" another approximation of the celestial body responsible for so many mass extinctions in the past.

The catastrophic effects of the transition are likely to be:

1. The passage of the star through the asteroid belt (between Mars and Jupiter) will destabilize the orbits of many asteroids, which will then be launched towards the sun. Due to its closeness to their trajectory, the Earth will gravitationally attract many of these bodies. There will be days when many meteors will blaze across the sky. Another possibility of the origin of the meteor shower (Revelations 6:13) is connected to the celestial body itself, which may be composed of frozen rocks which, as they approach the Sun, will break away, forming a tail like a comet and being attracted by the Earth's gravity. Larger meteors will wreak havoc if they fall into the ocean, producing giant waves.
2. The rapid passage of the celestial body close to the Earth will impact on the balance of the rotation of the Earth's core, resulting in:
  - a) An intense movement of tectonic plates, which will produce earthquakes and tsunamis. The famous psychic Edgar Cayce (1877-1945) foresaw major changes in the geography of the planet due to the repositioning of plate tectonics. Some parts of the continents will sink into the ocean and in other regions the sea will flood coastal cities. Nations will be annihilated and disappear, as Our Lady of Fatima warned Sister Lucia, her seer.
  - b) The geographic poles will change places, unfreezing cold and uninhabited places and freezing inhabited places. Some cities will be flooded and then frozen, burying their inhabitants for thousands of years. There will be no voice or data communication for months and the TV, internet, telephone, GPS, banking services and industry in general will be affected. The generation and transmission of electricity will also be dramatically affected.
3. The core of the Earth, now unbalanced, will be unable to generate the magnetic field of the Earth (the magnetosphere), leaving it weak or even nonexistent in some regions of the planet. There is a possibility that the magnetic poles will be reversed during this period. At the end of the process, which can take the form of months of colored lights in the sky, as though the polar auroras were occurring in various parts of the world, compasses will point south rather than north. People's health will suffer after being exposed to space radiation if the absence or drastic weakening of the magnetosphere is confirmed.

5 – SUSPECT NUMBER ONE: THE DWARF PLANET 2007 OR10

In the second edition of my book The Final Countdown, I consider the hypothesis that the dwarf planet (planetoid) Sedna is the celestial body that will stun the scientific community when it approaches the Earth. In chapters 18 and 19, I describe the factors that led me to believe this possibility. Of these, I consider the warning given by Jesus (Mark 13:14) regarding the destructive celestial body described as the "abomination of desolation", which is "standing where it ought not". I believed that this astronomical object described in the scriptures referred to Sedna due to the characteristic orbit of this planetoid, described by one of the astronomers that discovered it. According to Michael Brown, Sedna is where it should not be, as its orbit does not place it close enough to be affected by the sun, nor far away enough to be influenced by known nearby stars. Because of this suspicion, I wrote another book at the time, this time a work of fiction, considering the possibility of the return of Sedna (The Return of Sedna, 2014).

However, an academic study published in May this year made me believe strongly that another dwarf planet should be the number one candidate to be the celestial body that regularly (around every 12,000 years) approaches the Sun, causing mass destruction and altering the geography of the Earth. After further observations and calculations, astronomers concluded with some surprise that the dwarf planet 2007 OR10 is larger than estimated when it was discovered in 2007.

<http://www.nasa.gov/feature/ames/kepler/2007-or10-largest-unnamed-world-in-the-solar-system>

Why 2007 OR10 is not where the astronomers think it is – a premise based on Mark 13:14:

1. New findings indicate that the planetoid is larger than previously calculated by astronomers. This reveals that 2007 OR10 is in fact closer to us than at the time of its discovery. It is not far away, beyond Pluto, although by now it may already have crossed the orbit of Mars and be moving toward the Sun.
2. Astronomers involved in the analysis of data from the Kepler space telescope claim that the orbit of 2007 OR10 is unusual. This may be the clue that indicates that the orbit of the dwarf planet is different from known planets and planetoids, and that it is moving towards the center of the solar system, perpendicular to the ecliptic (see annex), which may be an orbit similar to the comets. The perihelion should be between the orbits of Venus and Earth. See Chapter 11 of The Final Countdown.
3. There are several esoteric references that suggest the destructive star, predicted in several prophecies, should be red. Perhaps the best known example is Hercolubus (also known as Nibiru), the red planet. We can therefore make a connection with 2007 OR10, the surface of which is red.
<http://www.hercolubus.tv/>
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ENWzC039I0Y>
4. Mystics and astrologers say that with the end of the Age of Pisces a new astrological era will begin at the start of the twenty-first century. The Aquarian Age will be an era of unity and universal brotherhood, a new era of world peace and respect for differences and human rights. But this new era will not begin without great turbulence first taking place in the world, transforming the Earth and all of society. The connection is that 2007 OR10 lies in the constellation Aquarius. This suggests that it is the celestial body whose expected passage will mark the beginning of a new era for humanity, the kingdom of God in our world, promised by Jesus.
5. In May 2010, it was discovered that one of Jupiter's characteristic stripes had mysteriously disappeared for a few months. Although this phenomenon had already occurred on at least two previous occasions, astronomers could not explain the disappearance. I suspect that it may be related to 2007 OR10. In May 2010, the planet Jupiter was emerging from the constellation Aquarius, where the dwarf planet is located. Coincidentally, the stripe is on Jupiter's southern hemisphere, and 2007 OR10 is in the southern celestial hemisphere, reinforcing the hypothesis that the passage of the planetoid by Jupiter may have caused the unexpected disappearance.

Unlike the astronomers, I believe the red color of the planetoid could mean that it is comprised of large amounts of iron. I assume that 2007 OR10 must have the same origins as Theia, the remote planet nearly the size of Mars which collided with the Earth at the beginning of the formation of the solar system. The iron and nickel that made up Theia merged with the core of our planet and the wreckage of the collision coalesced to form the moon. It is possible that 2007 OR10 is a huge ball of iron about 1,500 km in diameter which, passing close to Earth, will impact the magnetosphere, interfering with the rotation of the inner core. The result will be an intense movement of tectonic plates, similar to how passing an iron bar near a magnet makes the magnet move as the iron grows closer.

Trans-Neptunian Object 225088, better known as 2007 OR10, has not yet had an official name designated by the International Astronomical Union, despite being the third largest known dwarf planet. If I am right about the arguments set out in this article, I suggest that the star without a name should be called Revelation or Eos, the Greek goddess and daughter of Theia, who personified dawn. This would be appropriate for the celestial body whose return always marks the end of one era and the beginning of another on planet Earth.

6 - THE DATE OF THE APOCALYPSE - JUST AN HYPOTHESIS

If 2007 OR10 really is the hidden celestial body in the biblical text ("Then will appear the sign of the Son of Man in heaven. And then all the peoples of the earth will mourn..." - Matthew 24:30), encrypted in the centuries of Nostradamus and announced by esoterics and seers, then one can assume that the long awaited divine punishment may occur during the carnival of 2017, when we will all be stunned by the unexpected appearance of a large star close to the sun, which can be seen during the day. In century 3:34, Nostradamus says that the "monster" (as he called the celestial body) will be visible in broad daylight during a solar eclipse. On February 26, 2017 (Carnival Sunday), there will be a solar eclipse visible in South America. It is to be assumed that with the planetoid in Aquarius, it will approach or pass very close to Earth at the perihelion point of its orbit. As a result, there are seers who anticipate the emergence of a second sun which will alter the history of civilization. However, there is also the possibility that the planetoid will be moving away from the Earth, with the apocalyptic destruction having occurred days before.

I would like to point out another curious fact about the possible date of the Apocalypse or the Wrath of God being February 26, 2017. The end of the cycle of the Mayan long count calendar was predicted around the world as December 21, 2012. But it is important to remember that this date depends on the correlation between the Mayan calendar and our Gregorian calendar. The most accepted correlation is GMT (584,283, Goodman-Martinez-Thompson), which resulted in the widely considered date of the Mayan "prophecy". However, there are other correlations that are less accepted. Among these is that of the Mexican historian Carmen Cook Leonard (1906-1988). If his correlation (585,789) is correct, the end of the Mayan long count calendar will be on February 4, 2017, three weeks before the fateful day I am proposing here.

For three days, intense natural catastrophes will occur all over the planet, and metaphorically there will be three days of darkness. As Brazil's greatest medium, Chico Xavier (1910-2002), confided to a friend, if the leading nations are in a global conflict at this time, possibly aggravated by nuclear attacks, these disasters will be God's way of ending the Third World War and marking the beginning of a new era for humanity.

7 - FINAL CONSIDERATIONS

During a premonitory vision when he was just 17, the fashion designer Paco Rabanne saw himself wandering the streets of Paris while watching people who had been burned alive throwing themselves into the River Seine. He also said that a space station, which he thought was the Russian space station MIR, plummeted from the sky and fell to earth. As nothing happened on the date he specified, August 11, 1999, the designer was unfairly ridiculed. However, it is possible to interpret the vision of burnt people as being caused by solar radiation, which in the absence of the natural barrier of the Earth's magnetic field will cause great harm to health. As for the space station crash, it can mean that the radiation of space, in the temporary absence of the magnetosphere, irreversibly damages satellites in orbit, though they will not necessarily be physically destroyed. In my opinion, this vision may still come true and the world will then recognize that Paco Rabanne was right.

It is not my intention to cause panic, but rather to help governments, companies, scientific research institutions and the global population to prepare for a possible global catastrophe which, it seems, is close at hand. If my suspicions are confirmed, we must be prepared and united. I have prepared a diagram (attachment) describing the hypothetical orbit of 2007 OR10. I suggest that astronomers simulate mathematical models and evaluate the possibility that the planetoid is not where they think it is. In addition, I will make myself available to help identify locations of greater risk based on the research I have already carried out, in order to save lives and preserve human knowledge from destruction and oblivion.

The year 2017, the centenary of the apparition of Our Lady of the Rosary of Fatima, will be remembered by future generations as the year of the Apocalypse, the Great Year of the Lord, the Lord's Day, the Day of Wrath, and The Last Judgment foretold in the scriptures. I may be very wrong and all this will be revealed to be nothing more than a huge coincidence, but if I am right, then it is the final warning. If the world is surprised by a world war, nuclear attacks and terrible natural disasters, then no one can blaspheme God, because the prophecies were right yet we lacked people to properly interpret them. We should consider now that we have been warned.

SEVEN THEORIES THAT SUGGEST AN IMMINENT GLOBAL CATASTROPHE

1. The Earth is overpopulated, with the global population expected to exceed ten billion by the end of the century. As a result, there will not be enough water, food or well-being for everyone. Population reduction and balancing will be required.
2. There is no consensus among scientists that climate changes are caused by human actions. However, an increase in the numbers of earthquakes and volcanic eruptions indicates that the planet is "sensing" a form of imminent danger. The origin of these natural disturbances is related to the ice ages. A new ice age is likely to begin quickly and suddenly, as it did eleven thousand years ago. Our governments are not prepared to face this situation.
3. The pages of The Bible contain several descriptions of prophecies that warn of a future global collapse. Daniel, Jesus and the Book of Revelation have foretold generalized chaos in nature, the origin of which appears to come from space.
4. The messages of Our Lady of La Salette, since her appearance in 1846 until the present, have foretold a time of unprecedented torment, pain and suffering for humanity. These warnings have been repeated over the past 170 years.
5. Since the sixteenth century, prophets, seers, and psychics around the world have warned us about an impending global catastrophe, when the planet will be dramatically transformed by drastic geographical changes in every continent.
6. Over the last sixty years, the appearance of UFOs and crop circles, mysterious, non-human signs in the sky and on earth, indicate that something grave is about to happen. Visitors from space have arrived to help us in this painful moment of transition to a better world.
7. If a house has cracked walls and damaged foundations, it must be demolished to allow a new home to be built. This is the situation our world is in today. Just like a wrecking ball, a celestial body, subtly mentioned in The Bible, shall bring about the destruction of our planet, as has already been described in the third secret of Fatima, allowing the renewal of mankind. There are strong indications that this destructive celestial body is the planetoid Sedna, which is positioned "where it should not be." Astronomers have ignored these indications, meaning Sedna's arrival will take us all by surprise.
